RITEZYME™

All natural digestive enzymes

A working dog or show dog needs to get the most out of his diet. The extra stress of being out in the field creates a greater need to maximize the benefits of what your dog eats.

Processed food may not provide all of the essential components of a proper diet, for example, the proper amount and type of enzymes needed for digestion. Enzymes play an essential role in the digestion of food. By breaking down food so that the nutrients can be absorbed, your dog gets the most from what he eats.

Without enzymes, indigestion occurs, and undigested food moves into the colon where bacteria create gas, bloating and irregularities in their bowel movements. The expense and effort to provide a better diet for your hard working animal goes to waste, literally.

RITEZYME™ is specially formulated to provide the right combination of enzymes to aid digestion for the working dog, race dog or show dog. Our Active Formula contains a more powerful blend of enzymes to provide the right ingredients in the right proportion to support your animal's active lifestyle. No sugars, all natural ingredients. The result? A healthier, happier working dog!

RITEZYME™, the right stuff for a healthier, happier animal!

What's in RITEZYME™ Active Formula?

RITEZYME™ Digestive Support, Canine Active Formula contains a proprietary enzyme blend of Lipase, Amylase, Bromelain, Papain, Protease AO, Hemicellulase and Cellulase. The enzymes break down the proteins, fats, carbohydrates and cellulose in your animal's food.
